

To avoid misclicks as far as possible, BBO provides an option to confirm bids or cards played with a simple toggle in the settings menu. If you consistently misclick bids or cards, and request a lot of undo's as a result, you might want to consider enabling this feature and see how it goes. You can always toggle it back if you feel it's too disruptive.

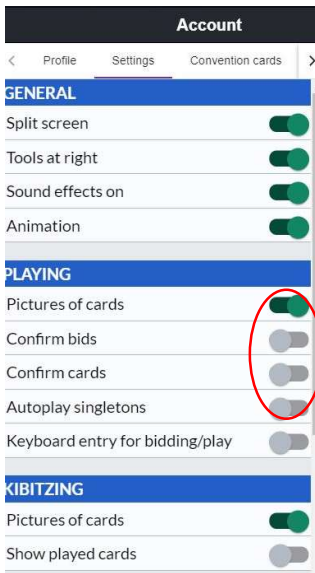

After logging into BBO, click the "Account" tab.

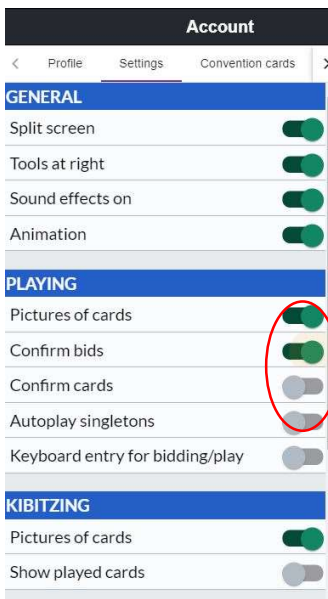

Then click on settings.

Default settings have the “confirm bids” and “confirm cards” off.

Toggle whichever options you want to try, to enable this feature.

Toggle it back to revert back to previous option.

The system will now request confirmation for each bid / play.

This will make it less likely a misclick will occur.